

HOUSE OF CORRECTION - BILLERICA, MA

Originally constructed in 1929 to house a total of 300 inmates, The Middlesex House of Correction in Billerica holds between 800-1000 inmates any given day.

Inmates committed to the facility are serving sentences of 2 1/2 years or less. The Middlesex Sheriff's Office is committed to providing a service-oriented environment. We face the challenge of overcrowding on a daily basis and continually succeed in maintaining a safe, well-managed facility.

Within our walls our officers and trained staff work to efficiently and effectively treat and teach inmates through numerous programs and classes. The goal is successful reintegration; helping offenders become more productive citizens upon release. Because of this focus on inmate programming, the Middlesex Sheriff's Office has seen a significant reduction in recidivism over the past 10 years.

Part of the House of Correction was renovated and modernized in 2006 to meet the demands, codes and state-of-the-art needs of corrections in the 21st Century.
